Equality in employment can be seriously impaired when individuals are subjected to discrimination by way of sexual harassment at workplace. Each such incident results not only in the violation of fundamental rights of "Gender Equality" and the "Right to Life and Liberty" under Articles 14, 15 and 21 of the Constitution of India but also in the violation of the victim's fundamental right under Article 19 (1) (g) "to practice any profession or to carry out any occupation, trade or business". The fundamental human rights to protection against sexual harassment and the right to work with dignity are also universally recognized by international conventions and instruments such as Convention on the Elimination of all Forms of Discrimination against Women ("CEDAW"), which has been ratified on the 25th June, 1993 by the Government of India. Company recognizes that the Law has been passed as a measure to provide equal opportunity to work to its women population and grant them equality under the Constitution of India. Thus, the procedure and the mechanism specified in Law has been provided keeping the women population in mind i.e. to prevent instances of sexual harassment of women at workplace and to have a complaints mechanism to address their complaints.

However, Company recognizes that genders other than women aren't immune to sexual harassment and can experience such behaviours at the workplace. Thus, Company is committed to provide a safe environment for all employees regardless of gender. Additionally, it is committed to create an ethos of acceptance and inclusivity at the workplace such that individuals regardless of their sexual orientation, sexual preferences, individuals belonging to LGBTQI community, choosing to not be in any of the socially constructed communities and adopting a fluid/non-binary approach
