Rating methodology i-save rating methodology for term insurance

Coverage: Comprehensive. All term insurance products available in the market have been covered.

Ratings: i-save term insurance ratings use a relative rating methodology to rate products on a 1 to 5 star scale. The ratings are a weighted aggregate of the product price, features and company service data, each rated on a relative 1-5 star scale. The ratings assigned correspond to the following:

- ★★★★★ Superior product
- ★★★★ Excellent product
- ★★★ Good product
- ★★ Average product
- * Below average product
- No star Low rating

Parameters considered

Price: Lower premiums get higher scores. Premiums are compared across multiple age bands for both males and females, multiple sum assured (from ₹10 lakh to ₹1 crore) and multiple terms up to age 60 years or maximum term 30 years.

Product features: Features are assigned a numerical score based on product benefits, availability and flexibility.

Servicing capabilities: Scores are awarded to customer servicing and claims settlement statistics. These are not product specific. Data published by IRDA for the past two years is used to compare and allocate a relative numerical score adjusted for age.

The relative position on the distribution curve highlights the overall 'ranking' of the product relative to its peer group based on a comprehensive product score of its price competitiveness, features and flexibility, and servicing capabilities.

* Service ratings based on IRDA data for 2011-12. Where a company has recently commenced operations, service scores have not been considered for rating. i-save ratings are not meant as financial advice or guidance. It is not a recommendation to purchase, hold or terminate any insurance policy or contract. Data available as of 29 April 2013. Detailed methodology on i-save.com
